

Hey y'all. Glad to see you folks again after the last forum got shut down. Beware the wrath of the victim! (Ok I stole that from Leftover Crack).

Anyways, I'm continuing to have this problem. I looked at these threads

<https://forum.proxmox.com/threads/gpg-error-on-apt-get-update-packages-from-jessie-main-missing.24041/> and I'm having a lot of trouble trying to find the thread where it told me to switch the repo to daveserver.info etc etc (didn't work) and trying `apt update` again. Here's my stack

`$ sudo apt update
```

I've tried apt-get clean, apt-get autoclean, etc. nothing works. Ironically however sudo apt upgrade just worked, but if I try to install anything (i.e. SMTube which is giving me the same problems as the guy in this thread <https://www.antixforum.com/forums/topic/smtube-is-not-working/>) and it gives me this error (using smtube as an example here)

`Err http://iso.mxrepo.com/antix/jessie/ jessie/main smtube i386 17.1.0-0mx150+1
404 Not Found`

Also please don't tell me to look it up because evidently I already did!
